SIAM Major Awards

Do you know someone who has made a significant impact in the fields of applied mathematics or computational science?

The SIAM prize program provides you with an opportunity to recognize deserving people in your field by nominating them for a SIAM prize. SIAM values a diverse set of participants in all its activities and seeks diversity among prize nominees.

SIAM offers many different kinds of prizes. Some commend lifetime contributions and others acknowledge notable research by early career scientists or students.

Prizes are intended to distinguish individuals for outstanding contributions. And while many of the prizes carry monetary awards, it is the recognition by the mathematical sciences community for both the awardees and their institutions that matters most.

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS: 2016 SIAM Prizes and Awards

Nominate a deserving individual now for one of the SIAM prizes listed below.

All prizes will be awarded at the 2016 SIAM Annual Meeting (except where noted) and include reimbursement for travel.

The John von Neumann Lecture

SIAM's flagship prize is awarded for outstanding and distinguished contributions to the field of applied mathematical sciences and for the effective communication of these ideas to the community. The 2016 recipient will join the list of most distinguished John von Neumann Lecturers. SIAM welcomes your suggestions. This prize has a $5,000 cash award.

AWM/SIAM Sonia Kovalevsky Lecture

Awarded jointly by AWM and SIAM to anyone in the scientific and engineering communities whose work highlights the achievements of women in applied and computational mathematics. The Association for Women in Mathematics (AWM) welcomes nominations.

Norbert Wiener Prize

Awarded at Joint Math Meetings (JMM) jointly by SIAM and AMS for an outstanding contribution to applied mathematics in the highest and broadest sense. The prize has a $5,000 cash award. Nominations should be sent to AMS by June 30.

Frank and Brennie Morgan Prize for Outstanding Research in Mathematics by an Undergraduate Student

Awarded at Joint Math Meetings (JMM) jointly by SIAM, AMS, and MAA, the Morgan Prize recognizes a student (or students for joint work) for outstanding research in mathematics. Any student from USA or its possessions, or Canada, or Mexico, is eligible. This prize has a $1,200 cash award. Nominations should be sent to AMS by June 30.

George Pólya Prize in Combinatorics

The George Pólya Prize in Combinatorics is awarded every four years for a notable application of combinatorial theory. The prize is intended to recognize specific recent work. This prize has a $10,000 cash award.

W. T. and Idalia Reid Prize

The Reid Prize is awarded for research in, or other contributions to, the areas of differential equations and control theory, broadly defined. SIAM welcomes nominations for a single notable achievement or a collection of such achievements. The recipient is requested to deliver the Reid Prize Lecture. This prize has a $10,000 cash award.

Richard C. DiPrima Prize

This best thesis prize will go to an early career scientist who has done outstanding research in applied mathematics and who has completed the dissertation and all other requirements for the doctorate within the two years, July 1, 2013, to June 30, 2015. This prize has a $1,000 cash award.

SIAM Student Paper Prize

Up to three prizes will be awarded to the student authors of the most outstanding papers submitted. The prizes recognize outstanding scholarship by students in applied mathematics or computing and are based solely on the merit and content of the student's contribution. Recipients will be invited to present their papers. This prize has a $1,000 cash award per student author.

Nominations are due fall 2015, except where noted. For more information or to submit a nomination, visit:
