

Contents

Preface	ix
I Voting	1
1 Winner Selection	3
Exercises	9
2 Rule of the Majority	11
Exercises	15
3 Election Spoilers	17
Exercises	21
4 The Smith Set	23
Exercises	30
5 Smith-Fairness and the No-Weak-Spoiler Criterion	31
Exercises	35
6 Schulze’s Beatpath Method	37
Exercises	41
7 Monotonicity	43
Exercises	52
8 Elections with Many or Few Voters	55
Exercises	58
9 Irrelevant Comparisons and the Muller–Satterthwaite Theorem	61
Exercises	69
10 Strategic Voting and the Gibbard–Satterthwaite Theorem	71
Exercises	74

vi	Contents
<hr/>
11 Winner Selection versus Ranking 75 Exercises 81 12 Irrelevant Alternatives and Arrow’s Theorem 83 Exercises 90 II Compensation 93 13 Fairness and Envy-Freeness 95 Exercises 103 14 Pareto-Optimality and Equitability 105 Exercises 111 15 Equality, Equitability, and Knaster’s Procedure 113 Exercises 117 III Division 119 16 Envy-Free, Pareto-Optimal, and Equitable Cake Cutting 121 Exercises 126 17 “I Cut, You Choose” for Three: Steinhaus’s Method 129 Exercises 131 18 Hall’s Marriage Theorem 133 Exercises 136 19 “I Cut, You Choose” for More than Three: Kuhn’s Method 139 Exercises 141 20 The Method of Selfridge and Conway 143 Exercises 145 21 The Geometry of Pareto-Optimal Division between Two People 149 Exercises 154 22 The Adjusted Winner Method of Brams and Taylor 157 Exercises 161 23 Conflict Resolution Using the Adjusted Winner Method 165 24 The Effect of Dishonesty on the Adjusted Winner Method 169 Exercises 172 25 Proportional Allocation 175 Exercises 179

Contents	vii
26 Dividing a Piecewise Homogeneous Cake among $N > 2$ People	181
Exercises	191
IV Appendices	193
A Sets	195
Exercises	198
B Logic	199
Exercises	203
C Mathematical Induction	205
Exercises	209
D Solutions to Selected Exercises	211
Index	243